Supporting Answers

People the children know who are not part of their family or close friend group.
It is best to help the children focus on people who live close to them.

Teaching Idea: Name five (5) different friends who live in your community. AND Make a scrapbook or collage of your neighborhood friends, including at least five (5) different people.

Materials: Booklets made of folded construction paper containing 6 pages (a cover plus 5 friend pages), crayons or markers, glue, copies of a "title picture" for the front of book which says, "My Community Friends".

NOTE: Ahead of time, ALERT PARENTS that they will need to bring pictures of 5 different people who live near them for this activity.

Procedure:

1. We are thinking and talking about people that you know, who live close to you, but are not part of your family. They are called Community Friends.
2. Hand out the scrapbook booklets and the cover picture. Have the children color the picture and then cut and glue it to the front of the book.
3. Next, have the children collect the five pictures from their parent and lay them out in front of them.
4. Go around the table and have each child share the name of each person, where they live in relation to the child's family, and one interesting fact about that community friend. Example: This is Mr. Joe. He lives across the street. He has a big cat. This is Sasha. She lives beside us. She likes to grow tomatoes. Etc. Each child should introduce one friend each time around until all 5 friends have been introduced.
5. Have the Early Birds glue the pictures of their friends into their books and add the name of the neighbor somewhere on the page with the picture.
6. It works well to have each child glue in the picture and name once they have introduced the person so that when the introductions are done, the books are mostly complete. Note: If necessary, the children may draw their community friends.

Teaching Idea: Tell three (3) things that you and your friends can do to make your neighborhood a better place.

Materials: No materials needed.
